

Got a floor that's just lying there? PERK! it up

PERK! Vibrance is the perfect way to add solid, durable color to any concrete floor.

It's the next generation of two-component polyaspartic concrete coatings. Don't confuse PERK! with epoxy. They're not even in the same league. PERK! floor coatings are 3X more durable than epoxy — and better looking, too! (Impressive, huh?)

Whether indoors or out, blistering hot or icy-cold temperatures (-30°F), PERK! goes down fast and easy. In fact, unless your floor is the size of Montana, you can start in the morning and be home in time for supper.

PERK! products are available from L&M Construction Chemicals, a member of the US Green Building Council. We're dedicated to employing sustainable systems that incur less waste and have minimal impact on the environment. While not only allowing for potential LEED® credits to be earned, our low and no odor VOC-free coatings are suitable for a wide range of interior and exterior applications. And, since PERK! is VOC-Free, there's no need to shut down the world to get the job done. All PERK! products are tested to ASTM standards.

Take your pick of colors, and choose Hi-Gloss or Low-Gloss for precisely the look you want. And, if you're the least bit handy with masking tape, you can really PERK! up a floor with any color combinations that float your boat. (Not too keen on choosing colors? Ask for our pro designer color-combination charts made specifically for PERK! Vibrance.)

Commercial, industrial, and residential floors are just waiting for PERK! Vibrance. Go ahead, PERK! it up a little.
